The licenses for downloads are usually hidden in the cloud using the random tags on your account. Delete those tags and reload your downloads. This method often works perfectly for me... There are a few ways to "fix" it, but this method is the fastest and easiest that I have come across. I have a 64GB card with 50GB free and when I try to download a free song it gives me an error saying that "invalid signature" but I dont know what to do. Please help!. The effects of protein kinase C (PKC) on rat cytosolic free fatty acid binding protein (FABP) were examined by comparing its phosphorylation by PKC, its tryptic phosphopeptide mapping, and its immunological characteristics. The gel filtration-HPLC technique was used to determine the effect of phosphorylation on FABP migration pattern. The effects of the various factors on the enzymatic properties of PKC were examined by measuring the Km and Vmax for (3H) diacylglycerol and (3H) inositol 1,4,5-trisphosphate binding. Tryptic phosphopeptide mapping analysis of the phosphorylated FABP showed that the major phosphopeptide had an electrophoretic migration speed slightly faster than that of the unmodified protein and that a minor phosphopeptide had the same migration rate as the unmodified FABP. The immunological characteristics of the phosphorylated protein were different from those of the unmodified protein. The phosphorylated protein bound to a number of monoclonal antibodies directed against a sequence that is highly conserved between rat FABP I and II, but not with antibodies specific for either rat FABP I or II. The results of the present study suggest that the rat cytosolic FABP becomes phosphorylated when bound to the membrane. In addition, the phosphorylated FABP migrates at a slightly faster rate than the unmodified protein, and the phosphorylation appears to be directed at the sequence that is highly conserved between the rat FABPs.
